TEEN SCENE

Teens, I can't impress on you enough, the need to read your Bible. I'm not talking so much about you studying the Word as letting the Word study you. Through the pages of scripture, the Lord shines His searching, probing light into all areas of your life. His Word walks through every room of your soul. There are no closed doors to the searcher of hearts. The author of Hebrews wrote; "For the Word of God is living and active. Sharper than any double-edged sword, it penetrates even to dividing soul and spirit, joints and marrow; it judges the thoughts and attitudes of the heart."

You need to let the Word of God analyze your life and show you where you need to change and grow. No, you don't need to fly through twenty chapters a day... just read the book. When you sense the spirit saying, "Pause and think about that," then obey Him. Filling your mind with His mind should be a top priority in all of life. One more thing, I've found that this exposure of our lives to God's truth has to be more than a once a week or haphazard proposition. It needs to be a daily activity. Spend time with Him every day and you will notice a huge difference in your life!

-Scott
